

XM radio has come up with a much needed service and should not be discontinued for any reason. I am not suprised that mainstream radio and television feels threatened by the XM service. XM is needed, especially in areas that normally would not receive clear radio signals and areas that do not have cable. Just think...WEATHER reports in hurricane prone areas such as mine. Don't you dare limit or stop a service that I gladly pay for. This is not unfair competition, it's a valuable service!
